ROUND-UPS.

A Well-Posted Cattleman Talks of the Future Prospects.

The Calf Crop This Year Greater than That of 1889-The Business Getting Down to Business Points-

Col. H. H. Campbell, superintenden of the Matador company, is in the city, having just come down from the company's ranch in the Panhandle. He brings the usual good report of the condition of Panhandle cattle, saying that they are in better fix generally than they have been for years. The rains in all that section, and extending far out on the plains, have been unusually seasonable, and, as a result, the range is as good as it could be. In conversation with a GAZETTE reporter Col Campbell expressed himself as highly pleased at the outlook for the cattle

"I regard it brighter now" he said than it has been for years and I believe from this time on it will be much better than it has been for several years past. The market this year, I think will even up much better than and did last year cattlemen will come with from $2 to $3 more per head for their beef cattle than they did last year. Of course there will be times even this year when the runs of cattle will be such that there will be a glut and prices will go down, but on the whole the average will be a decided improvement on 1889. "How is the calf crop in Texas this vear? ' asked the reporter. "It is very beavy-fully 15 per cent. greater than it was last year. That is the indications are that it will be that if not more. The percentage last year was not much if any over 50 per cent., but this year I expect it will reach 65 or 70 "Are there as many she cattle in Texas now as there was last year?' "I believe there is. The reports of the great thinning out of cows last season I think was exuggerated. You could hear now and then of a company shipping thousands of cows to market, but when you got at the facts of the case you would have found that they were spayed cows and did not cut down the breeding stock at all. No doubt there were agreat many she cattle sold, but the most of them were from West and Northwest stampede and has more cows this year than last year. Yes, I believe the calf

"Do you think the general supply of cattle is as large this year as it has been?"

"No, I do not, but the shortage is not in Texas as much as in other sections. For instance this year we found no trouble in putting 10,000 head of cattle when it would have been some time back impossible to place 1000 head. The cattle from the maturing pastures of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and other sechave to be supplied from Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Kansas is buying Texas cattle to breed, and in turn Nebraska is buying from Kansas the cattle that state bought from Texas. Iowa and other feeding states are buying heavily in New Mexico. So you see the great West is being drawn on to supply the shortage in the feeding states, which was caused by the wholesale marketing of all kinds of cattle last year. The supply of cattle in the United States is not as large as it has been, but the shortage is greater in the feeding states than

"How will the Indian Territory men come out in view of their having to evacunte that country?"

"They will not be as heavy losers as it claimed they would. Very luckily for them the order to vacate came in a favorable year-when the grass was fine so that cattle could be got in shape and at a time when the cattle market was taking an upward turn. If they had to go it was very fortunate that the time for their going was not fixed at an earlier date. By fall large numbers of the cattle then will be in good fix and will be sold at better figures than the some class of cattle would have sold for

"You think, then, colonel, that the prospects for the cattlemen are encour-

"I feel that they are. The cattle industry is now getting down to a business basis. Free grass is gone; the Indian Territory is going and cattlemen can now calculate, and are calculating how much it will cost them to raise a calf up to beefhood. It used to be the case that but few if any cattlemen could tell what it cost to raise a vearling calf: now it is different, and eattle buyers know, or will know when they come to buy my cattle, just how much it cost me to raise them, and they will know how much I can afford to sell them for. The hap hazzard style has gone, and the cattle business is settling down to business prinsiples. And it will be the best for all parties concerned-more satisfactory in all particulars. ''

Cattle in the Territory.

Mr. John Merchant passed through e city yesterday morning en route from the ludian Territory to West Texas. In a brief conversation with a GAZETTE re " orter, he stated that cattle we e booming, so far as condition was concerned. in that portion of the Indian country where his interests are. He told the old but pleasant story of fine grass, good rains and fattening cattle on every hill and in every valley. He had just shipped two train loads of fat beeves to Kansas City, and would have as many more ready for shipment in a short time. Mr. Merchant has been appointed Indian Territory agent for the Texas livestock commission company, and no better man for that section could have been appointed.

Grain Statistics. In 1867 the corn crop of the United States covered 32,520,249 acres and amounted to 768,320,000 bushels, of a total value of $910,948,390. Corn averaged 80 cents per bushel in that year and the average value of the crop per acre was $18.87. In 1887 the acreage had increased to 75,672,763 sores and the crop to 1,987,790,000 bushels, while the gregate value had only risen to $677,52,580. During this period the value of corn has shrunk from 80 cents to 3845 cents per bushel, and the acre earned $18.87 in 1867 yielded only in 1887. Likewise with wheat. the area devoted to wheat was 18,321 . 561 acres, and the crop amounted to 212,441,400 bushels, valued at $421,799,-466. The acreage in 1887 was 37,641,783 acres, and, although the crop had more than doubled to 456,329,000 bushels, its value was only $385,248,030, or $86,548-.

Carrylog the News.

R. G. Head, general manager of the Head Investment and Brokerage company of Colorado, has just returned to Denver from Texas. He reports the ondition of the cattle business very good in the section visited by him, in fact, along the line to Denver, grass beeves are sel ing from $2.90 to $3.90. There is a general inquiry from sections of the untry in reference to cattle that is surprising, and the tenor of these inquiries relate solely to cattle investment. The only portion of the country where the range is poor is in Southwestern Texas and the eastern part of Arizona, where fortunately cattle can live on less. He also reports that there is not so many catte in the Cherokee Strip as was estimated and believes that three weeks active market would clean them out.

Henry Geld, a Texas cattleman, has been in the valley for several weeks gathering up all the Hereford bulls he could find, in the interest of a great Panhandle cattle company. He has secured twentyone head of fine blooded youngsters from the Miller herd and leaves with them today for Northern Texas. Mr. Geld considers the Hereford the best beef stock in the world, and states that they are uniformly gentle in disposition, excellent fustlers on the range, and good travelers on the road. He will probably return before long for some more of our superior valley cattle.

E. F. Kellner's foreman started yes terday for Tonto Basis with a bunch of twenty Hereford bulls, purchased from J. L. Fisher. Tonto has had a number of Herefords on its ranges for several years and the cattlemen are more than pleased with them .- [Arizona Republi-the Indian Territory. Several large herds of cattle passed up the trail last week and Sheridan lake was without water for several days. The thirsty suimals were almost famished. Just now the bulk of the cattle are being whirled from the Panhandle country to Denver at a high rate of speed; pas-senger trains are being side-tracked to give the stock as speedy transportation as possible. It is estimated that 70,000 head will be shipped from Texas this season .- Field and Farm.

It is very likely that the quarantine against Texas cattle will, in the end. prove a blessing in disguise to the stock owners of that state.
